100 Years of Saving

The first savings bank in the United States was opened in 1816.

There were then 246 banks in the United States. Today this country is served by 27,062, banks whose combined resources are nearly 28 billion dollars.

Thrift has done that much in one century but there is much greater work for thrift to do.

Help yourself by becoming independent. Help the country by helping yourself.

GRADE NOTES

The Kindergarten is decorated very prettily for Hallowe'en. The little folks, with their handiwork are responsible for much of it.

Grant Ferguson is out of school on account of sickness.

The first grade has the flag this week. Dorothy Sherrer is back once more under Miss Roy's supervision, after an absence of two weeks spent in visiting in Detroit.

John Rheingans entered the fifth grade Monday.

The third and fourth grades celebrated Hallowe'en with parties Tuesday afternoon, and from all reports each one was a success.

The eighth grade grammar class has a debate the latter part of this week on the question, "Resolved, that home industry shall be patronized instead of mail-order houses."

Stocks and bonds are occupying the minds of the eighth grade mathematicians. They have made a stock board, and are keeping a record from the newspapers of six active stocks.

The eighth reading class is also worthy of note. They have finished memorizing "Thanatopsis" and "The Chambered Nautilus" and are now studying Emerson's Essays.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Physics class has almost completed the study of machine.

Did you know that Miss Buck was an electionist? Every few days after the lesson is over she gives her English Lit class a short reading from a book.

Thomas Gleason has left High School. We wonder why?

Mr. Johnson was awakened from peaceful slumbers Monday night by a beautiful serenade rendered by a chorus of girls voices.

Monday of this week was visiting day at Mariette schools. Their Superintendent spent it here and expressed himself as much pleased with what he saw and heard.

Mr. Johnson will attend teachers' institution at Grand Rapids Thursday and Friday of this week.

Mr. Drouyor read two articles of current interest in teachers' meeting Tuesday night. The articles were enjoyed as also were the refreshments contributed by Miss Hubbell.

Those arriving at school early Wednesday morning found the high room in confusion. Evidently some people had expended a great deal of energy the night before in changing the books of the pupils and moving the piano and desks. However, by the time the last bell rang, order was restored and the usual work carried on.

The classes in Modern History are beginning the study of the Renaissance.

The German II people enjoyed an examination Wednesday morning.

The Thursday morning audience applauded the speaker until the room rang. Mr. Drouyor gave a non-partisan talk with a plea for open minded Americans. He said that just because your father and grandfather were republicans was no reason why you should be, rather be interested in following the issues of both parties, keeping in touch with the candidates and then vote for the man whom you think is capable of filling the place. When he had finished one of the teachers heard the remark: "Mr. Drouyor can certainly give a good talk." So we all say. These talks are given regularly at 8:30 every Thursday morning in the high school assembly room. The students and teachers thoroughly enjoyed them and any outsider who wishes to come will be welcomed.

The senior hallowe'en party given last Friday was not the success it was planned to be as the number was too large to handle conveniently with the games which were played. The costumes were all appropriate for the occasion and in general everybody had a good time and enjoyed the evening. Rawley and George, swatting each other with the papers, afforded amusement to spectators only. Everybody saw the mysterious ghost float over their heads as advertised and when they joined hands and thought of ghosts they were surprised by a ghostly electric shock. Refreshments were served and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

Foot Ball Game Rather One-Sided. In the clash between Richmond and Yale High on the grid of City Park last Friday afternoon the locals afforded village fans their first scene of rugby for the season. Although the result of the contest was a severe defeat for the locals there was a great deal of enthusiasm and spirit evidenced on the part of the student body and villagers. A fairly good turnout was present for the battle. This fact above all others endorses the years work at football as successful, having aroused sufficient interest among the citizens to have its efforts backed. The boys who play on the team realize that they have not suffered humiliation in vain. A great discipline is gained by playing on the team and especially on a losing team. Not one among the spectators could claim that the sort of rugby played by the locals was not the clean, snappy sort that shows a knowledge and practice of the right principles of the game.

Yale High was outweighed approximately 18 pounds to the man and found it impossible to gain by line plunging or to prevent downs being made through their ranks without bodily risk. This was necessitated and carried out effectively in the third quarter.

Offensively Yale was forced to resort to open plays which threatened to work effectively in the first half. Tice, VanNorman and Adams starred on offense and Williams with his team mates played exceptional defense against the odds.

Local fandom will be afforded a succession of two games on City Park grid Nov. 10 and 17 when Vassar and Brown City will visit.

Senior Party

The masquerade party given by the members of the Senior class last Friday evening in Central hall was a huge success, and incidentally added some dollars to their coffers.

Probably a hundred and fifty were present, all garbed in quaint costumes and masked, making an extremely effective scene. There was every variety of character imaginable, some very pretty costumes being shown, others unique and grotesque, but all adding to the charm of the evening's enjoyment.

Amusements of different sorts were enjoyed. The fortune teller's corner received a good share of attention and the elder and doughnut counter was well patronized. Later in the evening dancing was indulged in and a touch was served about midnight.

Everybody appeared to have a good time, spectators included.

Hallowe'en Party

The Misses Mame Carrier and Freda Holden entertained the dozen young girls whom they chaperoned at Cedarwood last summer, at a Hallowe'en party on Monday evening.

The gathering was made at the home of the latter where they were taken to the cellar, blindfolded, tied together with ropes and led to the street traveling along highway and alley, finally arriving at a house, taken upstairs and locked in a room until their eyes were uncovered. None knew where they were, but the call to supper took them downstairs where they discovered they were in the home of Miss Carrier.

After partaking of a delicious repast, more hallowe'en games and amusements afforded the girls much enjoyment and the evening passed very delightfully.

Detroit, Armada & Northern R'y.

Detroit, Oct. 26—Work on the first section of the Gas-electric railway to be built by the Armada and Northern railroad to Bad Axe probably will be commenced immediately, it was announced by interested parties yesterday. According to a statement given out it is expected the road between Detroit and Memphis, 40 miles north, will be in operation by July 1, 1917.

The Presbyterian ladies will hold a bazaar at the church parlors on Dec. 5. Fancy work, aprons, lingerie, etc., will be on sale and plenty of home baking.

A ROUSING RALLY.

Congressman Cramton and Other Speakers Gave Splendid Talks On Political Issues.

Two hundred men and women of all political parties gathered at Central Hall Wednesday evening to listen to the political issues discussed.

Shirley Stewart, prosecuting attorney of Port Huron, was called upon to act as chairman, which he did in a very pleasing manner. He gave a preliminary talk on each of the candidates on the national, state, congressional, legislative, and county republican tickets and dwelt briefly as to their qualifications to fill the offices.

Congressman Cramton was then introduced and gave a convincing and interesting talk on the political situation in the present campaign. He handled his question with fairness and placed the present conditions in their true light. He asked his hearers what would happen to this country when the present war in Europe is ended, under Democratic free trade. Foreign manufactured goods made by cheaper labor than ever before, would be shipped into the United States and come in competition with goods made by our well paid workmen. He advised his hearers to consider the matter wisely before casting a ballot to continue the present administration.

We would like to publish Congressman Cramton's speech in full, but time and space will not allow us to do so.

Mr. Lincoln Avery was called upon and delivered an address that should go to the hearts of every voter and set them to thinking. He stated that he was a republican because he believed in the principles and policies of that party. His talk was interesting and well received by his hearers.

Mr. L. A. Holmes, candidate for state senator, gave a short address and brought applause from the audience by telling a story.

Judge of Probate, Hugh H. Hart, put the finishing touches to a successful meeting in a few well-chosen words.

Joe E. Vincent, candidate for county clerk; Fred H. Beach, county treasurer, and candidate for re-election; Ira Chase, candidate for drain commissioner, and Don R. Carrigan, candidate for circuit court commissioner, were also present.

OBITUARY.

The funeral of Mrs. Caroline Jurden, whose death was announced in last week's Expressor, was held from the home of her son William in Emmett township on Monday afternoon, Rev. Gottaleof, of Capac, officiating. Interment in Moore cemetery.

Caroline Neimeyer was born in the city of Warren, Nucklenburg-Schwerin, Germany, September 14, 1836, and at the time of her death was 80 years, 1 month and 12 days old. Married Chas. Jurden in 1855 and to this union were born three sons and two daughters, all of whom are living and residing in Emmett township. They are William, John and Otto Jurden, Minnie, (Mrs. Herman Scheffeline) and Etta, (Mrs. Fred Theel). The husband and father died about five years ago.

The family came direct from Germany in 1878 and settled on the old homestead in Emmett township, where she lived until last February when she went to live with her eldest son, Will at whose home she passed away on Thursday, Oct. 26, 1916.

Decades had always enjoyed good health up until about three weeks ago, when she began failing and gradually grew weaker until the end came.

She was a woman much beloved by a large circle of friends and neighbors, and her demise is greatly regretted by all who knew her.

CARD OF THANKS—We desire to extend our thanks to the neighbors and friends for kind acts and sympathy extended to us in our bereavement; also the Carless Sunday school choir for beautiful music rendered at the funeral of our beloved mother.

PREPARE THE CHILDREN FOR LATER YEARS

THERE is no more serious question for you to decide, Mr. and Mrs. Parent, than the kind of training your children are to have. In many homes education and training depend upon how much the parents can afford to spend.

What about Your Boy and Girl?

Will Willie have to forego his dreams of being a civil engineer, or will Mary be deprived of the musical training she has been looking forward to? Will they be compelled after school years are passed to take their places with the underpaid men and women, untrained, without a vocation?

Plan now, when they are young. Bank your money—or better still, deposit a little to their credit in this bank regularly, and when the time comes there will be no necessary "skimping" to start them off right.

M. P. Church Notes

REV. F. L. CRANDALL, Pastor.

Last Sunday's services were well attended. The splendid addresses given, we feel sure, will bring forth good fruit, and we hope that when we hear the returns of the ballot cast Nov. 7, our pastors and christian workers will have cause to rejoice, knowing that their labors were not in vain.

Next Sunday evening services will be lifted, giving everyone a chance to attend services in Central hall.

The usual monthly business meeting will be held in the church parlors on Monday evening, Nov. 6. All members requested to be present.

The L. A. S. served a ten cent dinner in the church parlors on Wednesday after which the ladies did a nice lot of quilting.

Our prayer services are very interesting. We invite you to attend.

The L. B. C. C., their husbands and a few friends, were pleasantly entertained at a Hallowe'en party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kennedy, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Graybiel acting as assistant hostesses. Yellow and black were the colors used in decorating. A short program consisting of readings, recitations and songs was enjoyed, after which various amusements were indulged in. Covers were laid for sixty guests. This is a busy, flourishing class with an enrollment of over forty members. Much of the credit we feel is due to our able teacher, Mrs. Wm. Hyde, and our hustling president, Mrs. Than Graybiel.

FARGO.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Lyons entertained their daughters from Detroit over Sunday.

Wallace Streeter has sold his property in Fargo to Fred Lossing of Avoca. Mr. Lossing will move soon. Mr. Streeter expects to spend the winter with relatives in Pontiac.

Arthur Wurzel is moving into his new home which has just been completed.

Ed Lohr's family are on the mend. Alice Lohr has recovered from typhoid fever.

The railroad is graded as far as this place.

The foundation is laid for the new depot and work on the building will soon be started.

Our new drug store is doing a good business. The people of this town and vicinity should patronize Mr. Drake when in need of anything in his line as he has given us a nice store and it is needed to make Fargo a good town.

We hear that there's an elevator starting at Roseburg. What's the matter with Fargo? We want one here and will have one soon.

Thos. Scott and family and Mr. Bowen, of Melvin, spent Sunday with C. A. Drake.

Rev. VanDoren will preach in Fargo Sunday evening.

Chas. Crocker finished working on the railroad and returned Saturday. Francis Watson and team are working on the railroad near Port Huron.

Joe Vincent was in town Monday. Here's hoping, Joe.

Robert Barrett is moving from Roseburg to Port Huron.

A number went from here on the work train to see the bridge Sunday.
